“ DILLON BY: Vinnie D He shore was annoying I knew where he was just By the way he laughed Always had something goofy to say just to get a smile Picking him up when he was a little younger to go on a drive, spend time, hang, skate Long division was a thing Untill I came along No fear, no tears and long hair Is where we were When we were together coming up with a way to better the things around us Was always a headache All this is not enough to explain how much my lil bro Dillon meant to me I knew he looked up to his older bro Playing the drums and skating Growing up somewhere that was just the beginning Never failing to piss me off As he lived with me Stealing, ducking, dodging Just created more reason for me to love him and want to know what was troubling He was afraid of me at the end Doing anything to get away I wish I wasn't to busy with a broke down tractor and a new family to let him know everything was ok Nana and tata wouldn't want it any other way Mom and Rodger wanted us To always be happy And one Christmas we met That goal and even smoked in the casa and took out the boat. I'm talking bout my little bro brother Dillon, he's the one YEEEEEEAH OUR LITTLE brother Dillon the one with a squeaky laugh YEEEEEEAH OUR bro Dillon a better drummer Then John Bonham. R.I.P DILL. “ I was Dillon’s assistant principal for most of his elementary years. He had a beautiful soul and an infectious smile. Dillon touched my life in such a wondrous way. I pray he is at peace now and that those he has left behind will find comfort as well.
