

Jenny Liane Van Sorensen

January 13, 2025

Jenny was born in Java, Indonesia to Geertruida Wihelmina Don-Romeign and Arthur Louis Dom on May 27th, 1931. As a child, she lived like royalty with her own personal servants due to her dad being the appointed governor of Java. Although she had this luxury, she was still humble and treated everyone with respect and kindness. When her dad passed during the war Jenny and her siblings were sent to a Japanese camp where they were maltreated. Once the war was over, she was able to go back to her home where she soon met her future husband, Jan EcomaVerstege. After they married the Indonesian government banished anyone who wasn't fully Indonesian. They ended up moving to Holand where they later had two children.

Around 1960 Jenny and her Family ended up leaving for America to the state of Michigan. She later moved to California to have another child. Jenny ended up raising two daughters and one son. As her daughters had children Jenny ended up helping her daughters raise their children. Jenny had 11 grandchildren from her daughters. Jenny taught her grandchildren to be respectful and understanding and all the proper etiquette of life. Jenny loved her grandchildren like her own children and made sure they had a good upbringing. As her Grandchildren grew up and had their own kids Jenny continued to have great relationships with her 11 grandchildren and 22 great-grandchildren.

Her memory will never be forgotten from her dancing in the kitchen to her swing music and scolding her family for not doing what was asked. Jenny was an amazing, loving, and funny mom, grandma, and great-grandma. As the families' lives continue her memory will live with them as well.

Tribute Wall

EP

“ My deepest condolences to the family. I called her Tante Jen Jen, she was the sweetest soul, very kind and sincere. I love her and will miss her greatly. RIP Tante Jen Jen. ”

Evelyn DeRoode Parham - May 29, 2025 at 10:58 AM

ED

“ EVELYN DEROODE sent a virtual gift in memory of Jenny Liane Van Sorensen ”

EVELYN DEROODE - May 28, 2025 at 06:09 PM

ED

“ EVELYN DEROODE lit a candle in memory of Jenny Liane Van Sorensen ”

EVELYN DEROODE - May 28, 2025 at 06:07 PM

JE

thank you so much i apoligize so late she loved you too and the family

jeunique - March 21 at 07:20 PM

“ 13 files added to the tribute wall

Amber Ecoma Verstege - January 22, 2025 at 08:18 PM

AB

“ Bob, thank you for entrusting us to handle the final services for Mrs. Van Sorensen. My thoughts remain with you and your loved ones during this time.

- Ashley Bradford, Simply Cremation Admin Team-member

Ashley B. - January 21, 2025 at 02:42 PM

BH

“ Becky H. lit a candle in memory of Jenny Liane Van Sorensen

Becky H. - January 21, 2025 at 02:40 PM