Tim was the fun dad, whose world revolved around his kids, grandkids, and loving wife. He retired from Rocky Mountain Power in 2018, where he worked for 39 years.

Tim loved all things automotive, fishing, jeeping, and working on the family cabins in Oakley, Utah.

Tim was preceded in death by his parents and his sisters, Sandy Johnson and Arlene “Dutchy” Flinders. He is survived by his sister Mary Scott (Tom). Tim’s love and legacy will be carried on by his wife, children, and two grandchildren, Bryce and Tucker.
